

CONTENTS.

—: o :—

	PLATES	PAGE
I. ALEXANDER SUTHERLAND, A Boulder containing Ammonites from Dunbeath, Caithness . . . . .		1
II. G. W. LEE, Note on Fossiliferous Sandstone from Dunbeath, Caithness . . . . .		2
III. J. DUNCAN, On a Deposit of Diatomaceous Earth near the East End of Loch Leven, Kinross-shire . . . . .		3
IV. T. CUTHBERT DAY, Veining and Metasomatism in Basalt at Upper Whitfield, near Macbiehill . . . . .	I.-II.	6
V. WILLIAM TAYLOR, A New Locality for Triassic Reptiles, with Notes on the Trias found in the Parishes of Urquhart and Lhanbryde, Morayshire . . . . .		11
VI. T. CUTHBERT DAY, Igneous Intrusive Phenomena at Upper Whitfield, near Macbiehill; and at Ravelrig and Kaimes Hill Quarries, Balerno . . . . .	III.-VI.	14
VII. D. TAIT, On the Section in a Bore-hole in the Calciferous Sandstone Series, Upper Old Red Sandstones and Lower Old Red Sandstone Lavas in the Grange District, Edinburgh . . . . .		18
VIII. ALEXANDER BREMNER, Low-level Kettle-holes in and near Aberdeen . . . . .		23
IX. ALEXANDER BREMNER, The Glacial Geology of the Stonehaven District . . . . .		25
X. J. S. FLETT, The Submarine Contours around the Orkneys . . . . .	VII.	42
XI. T. CUTHBERT DAY, Marginal Intrusive Phenomena near Linlithgow, and at Auchineon . . . . .	VIII.	50
XII. D. TAIT, Notes on a Section of the Wardie Shales, with Igneous Intrusions, exposed in the Stank, Corstorphine; and on the Draining of the Old Lochs at Gogar and Corstorphine . . . . .	IX.	54
XIII. J. MASTERTON, Coal Apples . . . . .		58
XIV. ALEXANDER BREMNER, Limits of the Valley Glaciation in the Basin of the Dee . . . . .		61
XV. D. BALSILLIE, Descriptions of some Volcanic Vents near St Andrews . . . . .	X.	69

	PLATES	PAGE
XVI. D. BALSILLIE, Descriptions of some New Volcanic Vents in East Fife . . . . .		81
XVII. RACHEL WORKMAN M'ROBERT, Igneous Rocks of Teviot and Liddisdale . . . . .	XI.-XIV.	86
Records of Papers read and of Exhibits, Sessions 1915-1916, 1916-1917, and 1917-1918 . . . . .		104
XVIII. WILLIAM MACKIE, Acid Potassium Sulphate as a Petrochemical Test and Solvent . . . . .	XV.	119
XIX. T. CUTHBERT DAY, Chemical Analyses of the Dolerite and Hornfels of Auchinoon . . . . .	XVI.	128
XX. D. TAIT, Notice of a Shrimp-bearing Limestone in the Calciferous Sandstone Series at Granton, near Edinburgh . . . . .	XVII.	131
XXI. THOMAS D. WALLACE, A New Locality for Manganese . . . . .		135
XXII. WILLIAM MACKIE, The Principles that regulate the Distribution of Particles of Heavy Minerals in Sedimentary Rocks, as illustrated by the Sandstones of the North-East of Scotland . . . . .		138
XXIII. DAVID TAIT and JAMES WRIGHT, Notes on the Structure, Character, and Relationship of the Lower Carboniferous Limestones of St Monans, Fife . . . . .	XVIII.	165
XXIV. T. CUTHBERT DAY, A New Volcanic Vent and other New Geological Features on the Shore, Weak Law, near Gullane . . . . .	XIX.-XXIV.	185
XXV. J. MATHIESON and E. B. BAILEY, The Glacial Strandlines of Loch Tulla . . . . .		193
XXVI. WILLIAM MACKIE, The Source of the Purple Zircons in the Sedimentary Rocks of Scotland . . . . .	XXV.	200
XXVII. H. M. CADELL, A Basalt Laccolite in the Bo'ness Coalfield . . . . .		214
XXVIII. E. B. BAILEY, Volcanic Vent Parasitic on St Leonard's Sill . . . . .		223
XXIX. H. H. READ, ALEXANDER BREMNER, ROBERT CAMPBELL, and A. W. GIBB, Records of the Occurrence of Boulders of Norwegian Rocks in Aberdeenshire and Banffshire . . . . .		230
XXX. ROBERT CAMPBELL, The late Professor James Geikie, LL.D., D.C.L., F.R.S. . . . .		232
XXXI. E. B. BAILEY, C. T. Clough, M.A., LL.D., F.G.S. . . . .		236
XXXII. Dr WALCOT GIBSON, Charles Lapworth, M.Sc., LL.D., F.R.S., F.G.S., 1842-1920 . . . . .		239
XXXIII. Dr MACKIE, William Taylor, J.P., Lhanbryde . . . . .		243

CONTENTS

	PLATES	PAGE
Records of Papers read and of Exhibits, Sessions 1918-1919, 1919-1920, 1920-1921, and 1921-1922 . . . . .		246
XXXIV. D. TAIT, On a Bore for Brewing Water near Craigh- lockhart . . . . .		271
XXXV. JAMES WRIGHT, Notes on the Occurrence of Crinoids in the Carboniferous Limestones in Scotland . . . . .	XXVI.-XXIX.	275
XXXVI. T. CUTHBERT DAY, The Leithies, North Berwick, a small Laccolite with unusual Intrusive Phenomena . . . . .	XXX.-XXXIV.	300
XXXVII. R. J. A. ECKFORD and W. MANSON, Certain Glacial Phenomena in the Central Tweed Area . . . . .	XXXV.-XXXVI.	308
XXXVIII. H. R. J. CONACHER, Some Occurrences of Natural Mineral Oil in the Scottish Shale Fields . . . . .		319
XXXIX. J. J. H. TEALL and E. G. RADLEY, Petrological Notes on the Houston Marl . . . . .	XXXVII.-XXXIX.	327
XL. T. CUTHBERT DAY, Two Unrecorded Volcanic Vents on the Shore East of North Berwick . . . . .	XL.-XLVII.	338
XLI. D. TAIT, The Rocks between Leith and Granton, with Historical Notes on the working of the Wardie Coal . . . . .		346
XLII. WILLIAM MACKIE, Dumortierite in British Rocks . . . . .		352
XLIII. H. H. READ, A Diopside-bearing Pegmatite near Ellon in Aberdeenshire . . . . .		353
XLIV. FREDERICK WALKER, Four Granitic Intrusions in South- Eastern Scotland . . . . .		357
XLV. S. R. KIRK, Geology of the Coast between Kinkell Ness and Kingask, Fifeshire . . . . .	XLVIII.	366
XLVI. JAMES W. LUNN, Two Unrecorded Intrusions in the Pentland Hills . . . . .		383
XLVII. D. HALDANE, Notes on the Discovery of "Edmondia" (Jones) in Fife . . . . .	XLIX.	386
XLVIII. FREDERICK WALKER, A Monchiquite Dyke in Lauderdale		390
Obituaries . . . . .		392
Records of Papers read and of Exhibits, Sessions 1922-1923 and 1923-1924 . . . . .		399
Index . . . . .		411
Roll of the Edinburgh Geological Society . . . . .		419